HARRISBURG, May 6.—Eighteen weeks of legislative strife ended today with a virtual surrender of the General Assembly to the financial dictates of Gov. Gifford Pinchot and fears of an immediate special session.

Both branches adopted a $128,220,469 appropriation bill and adjourned sine die at 4:33 a. m. Officially the adjournment hour was Friday noon.

Longest Day

Disagreement extended even into the closing minutes of the last day, the longest legislative day in 16 years. It lasted 26 hours and seven minutes. The bill that was sent to the governor represented a victory for him. It was slightly below the $128,530,043 recommended by him in January but far in excess of the

PA NEW OBSERVES

J. R. McQuiddy, foreman, Ray street quarry, said about 12 truckloads of stone daily are hauled from the quarry to Gaston park. The stone is dug by relief workers and laid by relief workers at the park he said.

When the new West Washington street bridge is built it will be something different, according to city officials. In the middle of the bridge will be what Councilman Treser terms an "aerial way". Traffic will flow on each side of the bridge, according to Treser.

BEER TAX STAMPS ARE NOW REQUIRED

Vendors of 3.2 beer today began buying the state revenue stamps necessary to the sale of beer under the recent beer revenue bill. The stamps arrived at the First National Bank of Lawrence County Friday before noon, but few dealers knew it and a comparatively small number of stamps were sold yesterday.

Under the law no beer can be sold without a state revenue stamp, regardless of when it was purchased from the manufacturer or the jobber. Every bottle of beer sold by retailers must have a one half cent

FIND BOMB IN FRONT OF PITTSBURGH CHURCH

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 6.—Believed to signalize a gesture of defiance by the underworld to vice-crushing north side clergymen, a bomb was found today in front of the Second United Presbyterian church here.

The fuse of the internal machine, burned to within six inches of the bomb, apparently had been extinguished by last night's heavy rain.

While the bomb was being examined at the city laboratories, five women and an alleged disorderly house proprietor, arrested as a result of complaints by ministers in the vicinity, were fined in morals court.

The Rev. Samuel H. Laing, pastor of the church where the bomb was planted, was one of a committee of three ministers who had complained concerning alleged vice conditions in the neighborhood.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Joseph T. Barry, secretary of the White Sox baseball team, today told police a graphic story of how five armed bandits took possession of his home late last night and fled with $2,000 jewelry and $181 cash after terrorizing the household for two hours.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Barry the victims were: Charles Berry, White Sox catcher; his father, and Mrs. William P. Haberkorn, whose husband is sergeant-at-arms of the Illinois senate.

Harry Kozamczak To Be Sentenced

Court Refuses Arrest Of Judgment For Man Who Shot Joseph Melnyk

In an opinion handed down by Judge R. L. Hildebrand at court this morning, an arrest of judgment in the case of Harry Kozamczak, convicted of felonious assault and battery in connection with the shooting of Joseph Melnyk, of the People's Savings and Trust Company, was refused.

Kozamczak shot Melnyk on South Jefferson street on August 25, 1932. Melnyk was badly wounded and has never recovered. On August 31 Kozamczak was held for the September term of court.

Owing to the serious condition of Melnyk on September 15 District Attorney John S. Powers, presented a motion to continue the case to the December term.

The record does not show that the case was continued from the December term until the March term at which Kozamczak was tried. Following his conviction Attorney Donaldson asked for an arrest of judgment and the discharge of the prisoner on the grounds that there had been no official continuance of the case.

On argument District Attorney Powers maintained that there had been a continuance, but that the motion had either been stolen or lost. Under the decision of the court Kozamczak will now be sentenced.

AS ROBBERY WEAPON

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., May 6.—A masked bandit's attempt to make off with a $4,000 factory payroll was thwarted today when A. W. Rossman, superintendent of the plant, fired at the fleeing thief and forced him to drop the bag of currency.

Eugene Salvette, an employee at the Liebowitz & Son shirt factory here where the holdup occurred, was felled by a blow on the head with a length of pipe wielded by the robber. A suspect was taken into custody a short time later.

Salvette was removed to a hospital where his condition was reported not serious. He and Rossman were in custody of the payroll when they were attacked on a landing in the factory building.

NEW CASTLE FIRMS AWARDED CONTRACTS

Announcement was made today by George J. Murphy of the A. W. Kutsche company, of the letting of two contracts on the new post office building.

The contract for the setting of stone has been awarded to the firm of Matthew Leibo and Son, of New Castle, and work is expected to start within the next ten days.

The stone for the new post office is native Pennsylvania stone, coming from Clearfield, Pa. Inasmuch as the building will be of stone exterior, this particular contract is a large one.

The contract for waterproofing the walls of the building has been let to the Lawrence Roofing and Supply company, also of New Castle. They will start work within the next few days.

Jackson Leaves For Washington

John T. Jackson, Jr., who has been the treasury department engineer on the new post office leaves New Castle Monday for Washington, D. C., where he will be assigned to another project. HARWICH, May 6.—Brigadier General Needham announced this afternoon he had taken in custody two men charged with kidnapping of Peggy McMATH.

They were Cyril Buck, the contact man between Neil McMATH and the kidnapers, and his brother Kenneth. Buck is the owner of a local garage.

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARWICH, Mass., May 6.—"I expect an important break in this case within three or four hours."

Brig. Gen. Daniel Needham, in charge of the investigation of the Peggy McMATH kidnapping, made this declaration at 12:30 this afternoon upon his return to Harwich after an all night session at Woods Hole, interrogating the four men concerned in the return of the child.

They were Neil C. McMATH, the girl's father; William Lee, the father's contact man; Cyril Buck, a garage keeper, who made the contact with the kidnapers, and Harold Sawyer, assistant to Lee.

Needham personally took three of these men—McMATH, Lee and Sawyer—to their homes here under an agreement that they would hold themselves available for further questioning.

Buck was escorted home "by somebody else," Needham said. Needham told reporters that "with luck" he would have "something hot for you by late afternoon or evening."

Four Aboard Boat

The four men, including McMATH, were aboard the Lee boat "The Bob" yesterday evening with Peggy, a coastguard vessel came across it. McMATH explained that he had promised the kidnapers that he would keep Peggy out at sea for 48 hours to facilitate their escape.

General Needham declined to reveal if he received any information concerning the identity of the kidnapers or the location of the "shack" in which Peggy said she was kept captive most of the time since she was abducted from a schoolhouse in Harwich.

The persistent questioning of McMATH and the others showed in

Woman Is Killed As Bus Crashes

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., May 6.—One woman was killed today and 15 other passengers on a bus of the Great Eastern Lines were injured, several seriously, when the vehicle and a small local bus collided about a half-mile west of East Prospect.

The dead woman was a daughter of Charles T. Moller, Indianapolis, who also was a passenger on the bus and was injured so critically that questioning immediately was deemed inadvisable.

Six other passengers were taken to the York hospital and eight more received treatment at the Columbia hospital.

SPRING FROLIC OF RAINBOW GIRLS

The annual Spring Frolic held at the Cathedral Friday evening by members of the New Castle assembly No. 1, Order of Rainbow for Girls, was a fine success and proved the loveliest event ever enjoyed by the organization.

A large gathering of young people participated and the girls looked like a veritable garden of flowers with their dainty dresses of pastel hues. Favors in the form of balloons provided additional color to the scene.

A floor show was given featuring Miss Nellie Brady, who entertained with a group of novelty tap dances. Miss Ruth Jones is worthy advisor of the Rainbow this year and the party arrangements were in charge of Miss Louella McBride and committees.

Guests from Westminster college, New Wilmington; Beaver Falls, Slippery Rock Butler and Youngstown, O., as well as a large representation from this vicinity participated.

Members of the advisory board acted as chaperons.

Birthday Party

Miss Betty Davis, East New Castle, entertained a group of friends in her home Friday evening in honor of her fourteenth birthday.

Games and songs featured the hours and Elizabeth Koski and Helen Wiklund were awarded prizes. The hostess received many lovely gifts in memory of the event.

Miss Blodwin Davis, aided her mother in serving refreshments. Those in the group were Elizabeth Koski, Dorothy Gibson, Sylvia Hamann, Charlotte Lutz, Helen Wiklund, Betty Jane Waddington, Carrie Whitaker, Dorothy Shaffer, Eleanor Shaffer and the hostess.

Spinsters Club

The Spinsters Club members were guests of Mary Miller on Monroe street, Friday evening. Election of officers occurred with Weltha Johnson as president and Olga Komarc as secretary.

Dancing, cards and music were pastimes, and high scores were held by Josephine Windish and Weltha Johnson.

Lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess. In two weeks Mary Gretta Jackson of Morton street will entertain.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER AFFAIR BRILLIANT

One of the most brilliant and most interesting of the week's mother-daughter events was that held in the First Methodist church Friday evening by the Mothers' Circle, of which Mrs. Fred Harlan is president.

Places were arranged for more than two hundred women and girls about tables which were attractive in their orchid, yellow and green appointments, which had been planned by Mrs. Ernest Withers, decorating chairman. A delicious menu was served by the Queen Esther Auxiliary.

The program, most delightful, was arranged by Mrs. W. A. Myers, and included the invocation by Mrs. H. C. Harper, pep singing, led by Mrs. Robert Flemming; the toast to mothers, which was a beautiful thought, by Harriet Truby, and a most fitting toast to the daughters by Mrs. D. T. McConahy.

Margaret Preston's lovely contralto voice was heard in a solo; she was accompanied by Albert Taylor, and dainty little Katherine Johnson gave a reading. Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts was the speaker of the evening and her talk was on the relationship between mother and daughter.

Mrs. Paul D. Weller had an appropriate vocal number, accompanied by Mary Long. Miss Beatrice Laverick was heard in a piano selection and the lovely little Lutz children, six in number, sang a number of songs.

The affair was one of the most delightful that has ever been given by the circle.

SPOON CLUB GUESTS AT LUNCHEON FRIDAY

Mrs. E. M. Underwood, of the Wilmington road entertained members of the Spoon Club at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon in her home Friday afternoon. Covers were laid for twenty guests and following the serving, cards contests were featured. Lovely prizes went to Mrs. Charles Johnson and Mrs. Quincy McBride.

In two weeks Miss Jennie Marshall will receive the club at her residence on North Jefferson street.

Three-D Club Meets

Mrs. Goldie Wolfbrandt, of East Washington street, was a pleasing hostess Friday evening when she entertained the members of the Three-D Club in her home.

Election of officers was held during the evening. Mrs. Helen Shaffer being named president; Miss Gladys Van Eman, vice president; Miss Sylvia Davis, treasurer; and Miss Sylvia Lightner, editor.

A spaghetti supper during the early part of the evening was followed by dancing and 500.

Special guests were: Mrs. Josephine Pettit, Helen Martin, Mary Caravella, Elizabeth Stencer, Mildred Vance, Rose and Stella Stender.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Helen Shaffer in Shenango township.

Happy Hour Club

Informal pastimes were enjoyed by the Happy Hour Club members Friday evening when they met with Mrs. W. Scott, McCaslin at her home on East Washington street. As special guests she had her niece, Miss Gladys Thompson, of Almira, N. Y.; Miss Blanche Cain, the Misses Agnes Cain and Kathryn Winters.

At the appointed hour the hostess served a delicious lunch.

In four weeks Mrs. Kenneth McCaslin on Milton street will extend hospitality to the members.

MAN'S AWFUL PRIDE

This I read in a book called "Marriage in Heaven".

A man and woman have quarreled, two who love each other but at the moment are hating fiercely.

"Men do not know what love is," says the woman.

He interrupted, "They do. They know more than women!" But he felt pitifully mortal. Is there no relenting in angelic natures?

"Men are blind and mad and damnable," she went on. "They destroy what is most beautiful in life because of their awful pride. They cannot be humble and give themselves. They must be sacred and untouchable, and woman may die of anguish, but they won't open their hearts. I know it. Oh, but I was a fool, when I knew it all along. Everything changes, nothing remains the same, and love, especially, disappears. A man's love, that is, a woman, poor beast, can't stop."

"That's not true," says the man, hotly, defiantly.

"It is true as truth can be," says any woman, sadly, bitterly, wishing it were not.

And to himself the man says also, wishing it were not, but stubbornly. "Perhaps it may be true, still I do not know why it should be so. But he does not confess that openly to the woman. Not in words, at any rate.

His "awful pride" stands in the way and he knows it does. . . . It has stood in his way many and many a time. He can remember how often his pride has torn him to pieces and almost wrecked his life.

Angry words have flashed like knives between him and one he loves. He stiffens his neck. He sticks his chin away in front of him. . . . He makes a faint, almost invisible overture for forgiveness, but it is not seen or it is rejected. He has come too far for that. . . . And then his awful pride, like an Iago or a false, malicious friend, comes between them and says, "You are right. You are the injured one. Don't yield!"

Nor will she yield, either. She is all alone, ringed with savage enemies, wishing in her heart that she did not love this man.

And a torturing time awaits them both, and it may be that they have flung themselves apart forever—unless blessed Common Sense puts Awful Pride aside and brings them into each others' arms again.

That's what happened to those two in the book. That's what happens, too, to all men and women when they listen to their hearts and obey that ancient wisdom. But a woman is so easily hurt and a man is filled with stupid pride.

MIND PICTURES

Are you a slave to the thought that "something is going to happen?"

Do you allow yourself to dwell on the thought that this year may bring about the deaths of some of those you love?

Perhaps it is fear of losing your job or investments gone wrong. But always you picture the near future as holding disaster for you. Why detract from the pleasure you might enjoy by the bugaboo of what may happen.

You may have some ill luck and you may experience sadness. But why darken the present with foreboding thoughts?

There is enough sadness as the result of real sorrow without manufacturing the scenes in advance. Foolish to add to your mental discomfort by worrying over things that may never happen.

Stop drawing these drab pictures of your future when the future may contain the greatest happiness you have ever experienced.

Don't be superstitious and let thoughts of ill omens, so-called, spell dread and fear for your fate or that of loved ones.

That imagination of yours is making you appear bereft of good sense. And you gain nothing by these disturbing mind pictures.

Not by whiners and by grumblers or the fearful and afraid,

But by faithful men and true with the grit to dare and do

And the willingness to battle are the better fortunes made.

Congressional Record Foes Warned Change Is Difficult

Personal Publicity Feature Is Criticised But Obstacles To Reduction Are Recognized In Debate On Economy.

Proposed curtailment of the expense of preparing, printing and distributing the Congressional Record is regarded generally as an academic question, because of the valuable personal publicity that members of Congress derive from this government journal. A measure introduced by Representative Cannon, Democratic member from Wisconsin, would save $4,000 a day by limiting the free circulation. Mr. Cannon calls the Record, as now conducted, "a colossal fraud on the taxpayers." Many believe that "leave to print" speeches never delivered should be limited.

Commenting on undelivered orations, the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS feels that "this method of fraud has been countenanced so long that the great majority of Congressmen now regard it as quite innocent." In its discussion of the Record and the prospects of reducing this expenditure, The News declares: "Senators and Representatives print brilliant perorations under the privilege of extending their remarks. For them the Record is a propaganda publication, an agency through which to present themselves to their constituents as great figures in Washington. However, in the last few years they have been shamed into paying a small part of the expense of making the weikin ring in fancy. 'Not printed at government expense' is a notation occasionally seen on excerpts from the Record that are broadcast. But it is significant that while the cost to the taxpayers of printing the Record in the first session of the 72nd Congress was $993,564, the total receipts for the publication in that session were only $9983. Yes, Mr. Cannon is utterly right about this matter; largely the cost of the Record is money thrown away. However, he has no chance to win this case for economy. His colleagues will refuse to change the order to which they have become accustomed, as to the Record or anything else."

"The campaign is a worthy one," says the MILWAUKEE SENTINEL, "but we are afraid the young Congressman has embarked on a fruitless effort. The abuse of the Record has become such a part of Congressional privilege that it is going to be very difficult to bring it to an end. No statesman is likely to object when some other statesman wants something printed in the Record, because the first statesman knows in his heart of hearts that some day he will want to do the same thing. We wish Mr. Cannon well in his effort, but, unless by some miracle, the Record can be brought under the jurisdiction of the President in his economy plan, it will continue to contain hundreds of pages at $58 a page, that nobody will read and that never should be printed. The boys in Congress won't cut it down any more than they'll give up their mileage and their family clerkships."

"At present," explains the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "this gratuitous printing of the Record amounts to no less than 31,000 copies of each issue, each Senator getting eighty-eight copies and each Representative sixty for 'franking' through the mails, while Government agencies are also served free to a great number. Under Mr. Cannon's schedule of distribution each Senator would get seven copies daily for his or her own use and for free mailing and each Representative six copies." The Evening Star adds that "a strict limitation of the Record to the matters which are spoken in the course of the debates in the two houses would greatly reduce its volume and consequently its cost and suggest that a Representative Cannon's thought that if the free circulation were limited there would be less demand for 'leave to print.'"

"It is no secret," avers the BALTIMORE SUN, "that 'speeches' neither delivered nor written by members, frequently are given extensive space in the Record. At most $1,000,000 a year to print and circulate the publication, an expenditure which would not, perhaps, be subject to criticism if it were not that presentation of the details of Congressional procedure could be made more serviceable by sensible editing and by stricter limitation of leave to print. Not only economy but a common-sense desire to give the public a readable record of the doings of Congress should prompt action in the matter." The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER approvingly quotes the objections of Representative Cannon to "the useless, nonsensical chatter," with which, according to the Observer, "his pages are stuffed."

Efforts for reform in this direction are applauded by the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL, while the LEXINGTON LEADER holds that the Record "is padded with articles, editorials and speeches not actually delivered, which have little or no connection with the legislation that is pending." The Leader adds, however: "It is not too much to say that no one who fails to read the Congressional Record can have a real grasp of public affairs and a clear knowledge of events. It is not too much to say that if every business man, every farmer, every merchant and manufacturer in the country had read with care every issue of the Record since the present Congress began its sessions, it would have been impossible for the larger part of the legislation which has been proposed ever to come within sight of passage."

"It is safe to say," concludes the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, "that if the Record cost the legislators as much per copy, the folks back home would not have so much reading jar!"

PLAYING CHECKERS WITH PEOPLE THE SOVIET government is shifting its population in much the same manner as one plays a game of checkers.

So revolutionary and unprecedented is the plan that it would not be attempted in any other country. Many surprising things have occurred in the homeland of the Communists, but this move might be termed the climax in an exhibition of governmental authority.

Briefly, the plan is to form divisions in which the various classes of Communists will be compelled to reside. The party is to hold a "chistka," or what may be called a housecleaning. Each of the party's members will be required to appear before a commission and publicly prove his right to be a Communist. The ones that can not do this are to be expelled.

On the eastern and western frontiers will reside only those who are regarded as the most socially and politically desirable. The reason for placing the most loyal members of the party on the borders is self-evident. Another zone will include industrial and certain urban sections. All the inhabitants in these divisions must have passports. Still another division will take in most of the villages and farm land. Inhabitants of this latter section will not be granted passports. In other words, they must stay in their home territory. The object of this part of the plan is to make it extremely difficult for the peasants to abandon their farms and enter industrial life.

There will be considerable conjecture in other nations as to the eventual outcome of the sweeping proposals. The American citizen, intelligent, progressive and inventive, and sometimes extremely critical of his government, is the product of the intermingling of all classes. What will be the product of the Soviet program which to all practical purposes segregates its people into classes with strictly drawn boundary lines?

The American is an individualist. The Soviet government does not recognize individualism; it believes in treating its people as a mass, the party being supreme. The objective of the new program is, of course, to strengthen the application of that theory. The thinking person can not but think that the scheme if carried too far will result in a nation of robots, with one class having supreme power over the others.

MENTAL INFLATION So far, a Washington newspaper man pointed out the other day, there has been no actual inflation in this country. The recent rise was "in anticipation of the inflation."

He may be ignoring unduly the natural effect of knocking the gold prop from under the dollar. But even that step might not have had such immediate effect on prices and business revival without popular anticipation of the further, more constructive steps promised.

The real inflation, according to this view, will begin when the various inflationary measures recently moving through congress are actually applied by the administration. There is vast power provided for expansion of currency and credit, directly through public expenditures, loans and relief distributions, and indirectly through legal control of the dollar.

The president may pour several billions of new money and credit directly into the national stream of business, or he may not. The discretionary power given him makes the anti-depression machinery very elastic. Public psychology is coming to play a big role. It may be—and millions hope so—that the inflation necessary to raise prices, resume business, provide employment, relieve distress and pay debts, can be attained mainly through this process of anticipation, without using all the means provided.

AINING HOME BUYERS

Optimism as to the future of the building and loan association plan expressed by banking authorities is welcome. The situation has not been satisfactory in some parts of the country. There have been bad spots and some remain, although most of them have been cleared up.

But there has been at no time any cause for general criticism of the building and loan plan, for any general fear, or for any withdrawals, from any well-managed association.

The building and loan system of saving and home-building or home-buying is sound. It has contributed very much to the welfare of all communities where it has been generally adopted. It has encouraged thrift and stability, and has been a real valuable asset in industrial and social development.

But the plan, in competent and honest hands, is as sound today as it ever was and as serviceable to the community and to the individual.

CONVENTION CLOSES IN CATHEDRAL SUNDAY

Nazarene Meet To Close Sunday

Ordination Service Will Open Sunday Activities; Meetings In Cathedral

More Delegates From District Arrive For Closing Services Of The Assembly

Sunday will mark the close of the annual Pittsburgh district assembly of the Church of Nazarene, with services in the cathedral, beginning with the Sunday school service at 9:15, the church service at 10:30, an afternoon service at 2:30 and evening session at 6 o'clock. The meetings will be conducted on eastern standard time.

Many more delegates arrived in the city today and it is expected that the large auditorium of the cathedral will be crowded Sunday for every service. The ordination service is being held at 8 a. m. in the Church of the Nazarene, Beaver and Falls streets.

Dr. R. T. Williams, general superintendent, who is a dynamic speaker, filled with spiritual enthusiasm and eloquence, will be the speaker at the 10:30 and 2:30 services Sunday and Dr. E. G. Anderson of the Eastern Nazarene college of Boston, Mass., will also speak during the afternoon.

Election of Officers.—The Friday morning session in the First Presbyterian church was given over to business and Dr. S. Warren Jones of Alliance, O., was again chosen district superintendent, with a unanimous vote, and he responded with a word of acceptance.

A Sunday school board was elected, with Mrs. J. M. Anderson and S. S. White to serve one year, A. W. Gould and F. P. Reese two years and Emma Durbin and W. M. Knapp three years.

An advisory board was also chosen and reports were heard from the home missions, young people's work, publishing interests, Sabbath observance and Women's Missionary society.

His evening addresses will be illustrated by stereopticon views and illustrated hymns.

O. E. S. Service In Epworth Church

Members Of The Eastern Star Will Attend Church Service In A Body Sunday

The evening service Sunday in the Epworth Methodist church will be particularly interesting, inasmuch as the members of the three chapters of the Order of Eastern Star, New Castle, Shenango and Cathedral, will attend in a body, meeting at the church at 7:15, to go in together for the service at 7:30.

The music of the evening is of special interest, as it will be furnished by the Orpheus mixed chorus of Pittsburgh and will be varied in numbers.

The pastor, Dr. J. A. Galbraith, will have as his subject "Ruth—the Chosen of God."

Juniors Will Sing In First Church—The children's chorus of the First Methodist church will be heard in service Sunday.

A special feature of the Sunday evening service of the First Methodist church will be the appearance of the large junior choir, under the direction of Albert Taylor, organist.

The children will sing two anthems "Brightly Gleams Our Banner" by Slough-Leighter, and "Teach Me To Pray" by Jewett, Miss Camilla Smith is the accompanist, and Miss Gretchen Myers will be at the organ for the special number.

The offertory number will be "The Swan" by Saint-Saens, arranged for piano and organ, with Alice Preston, a member of the junior choir, will play the piano part.

STRIKE FOR JAZZ (International News Service) CAMDEN, N. J.—Students in Camden high school went on a singing strike because they were not allowed to sing popular songs.

Youth Night At Assembly

Rev. G. B. Williamson, General Young People's President, Will Address Gathering

General Assembly Will Close With Mass Meetings In Cathedral All Day Sunday

This evening will be observed as young people's night in the convention of the Church of the Nazarene, which is being held in the First Presbyterian church and Rev. G. B. Williamson, general Nazarene Young People's society president, will be the speaker.

An advisory board for the assembly was named at the Friday afternoon session and this includes Rev. O. L. Benedum, East Liverpool, O.; Rev. Charles Hanks, Akron, O.; Albert Welsch, New Galilee, and E. S. Carmen, Cleveland, O. Reports of the ways and means committee, social welfare work, evangelism and examining boards were also made at the Friday session.

Friday evening a rousing song service opened the session and Rev. E. G. Anderson, financial agent of the Eastern Nazarene college, presided.

Prof. A. S. London led the evening prayer and spoke briefly of his 18 years in college work. Dr. G. B. Williamson told of the work at the college at Wallaston, a suburb of Boston.

Dr. R. Wayne Gardner, college president, gave the address of the evening, telling of the importance of the training of the young people in the work of the ministry. He stressed the point that fundamental Christian character is the need of the church and the world. E. G. Anderson gave a splendid report of the finances of the college.

Music by the East Nazarene college quartet featured the song service.

Naval Parity For Japan Is Opposed

Secretary Of Navy Swanson Against Granting Naval Parity To Japanese

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6—Secretary of the Navy Swanson Friday declared he was opposed to granting naval parity to Japan.

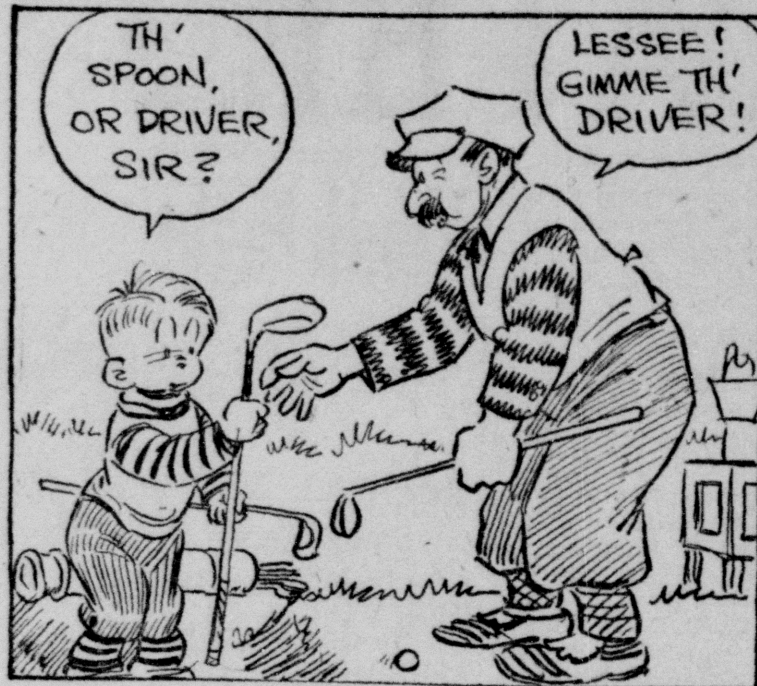

In response to questions regarding reports from Tokyo that Japan intended to demand naval parity with Great Britain and the United States Secretary Swanson said:

"I am in favor of maintaining the London Naval treaty ratio. That ratio was a fair distribution of naval power. It was endorsed by every government at the conference. I see no reason for any change."

The London treaty was based principally on a five-five-three ratio between Great Britain, the United States and Japan. However, it gave Japan equality in submarines. One of the reasons used by Japan for demanding parity is the German demand for arms equality. Swanson said he did not believe the German demand was any reason for Japan's demand for any increase in the naval ratio as it related to this country.

Yet the only free people are those so unimportant that nobody knows or cares what they do.

Market Closes
In Selling RushRumor Roosevelt To Uphold
Sound Money In Speech
Has Market EffectBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 6.—The stock market suffered its first serious setback in more than a week today, slumping 1 to 4 points, on rumors that President Roosevelt would uphold sound money on the air tomorrow and "take the wind out of the inflationists' sails."

Selling pressure was augmented by at topheavy speculative structure and a sharp rally in the dollar after it crashed to new lows in the early dealings.

The market closed with a selling rush which sent the high speed ticker several minutes behind. Recent speculative leaders like American Can, U. S. Steel, Case Threshing, United Aircraft, Allied Chemical, American Telephone and the rails led the decline.

An effort was made to rally the market in the second hour under the leadership of the carrier shares following the gain of more than 42,000 cars in the week's traffic report. This petered out quickly and the decline got underway in earnest. The market closed around the lows of the day.

With Class PlayCapable Cast Gives Splendid Performance In
"The Goose Hangs
High"CAPACITY AUDIENCE
ENJOYS PRODUCTIONELLWOOD CITY, May 6.—Lincoln High auditorium was the mecca of entertainment lovers last evening as they packed the place to see two of their most enjoyable hours of the day as a capable cast presented the Senior Class play,
"The Goose Hangs High."Once more the local public is indebted to the directing ability of Miss Elizabeth McKnight and Miss Mary E. Braham who are largely responsible for the success. These two ladies have been in charge of one success after another in the past two years. Their time, patience and efforts were well rewarded by the splendid response of an appreciative audience.Not to meet, praise can be given their splendid cast which consisted of some of the best known students in the school. Something quite unusual is that it included three football and track stars who in an impressive manner demonstrated their dramatic ability. The success of the play was further aided by a remarkable stage setting depicting a happy, cheery family home. Credit for this goes to R. J. Hawke, head of the shop department in the high school, and some student committees.The play was of more than usual interest as it portrayed the life of the average family during the present conditions, and had that human element in it that reached the heart strings of the audience.Interesting Plot
The plot of the play was built around Bernard Ingals' family of five. The father was forced to resign his job as assessor through some political graft of a city coun-cilmans. His two children, Bradley and Lois Ingals are two of the unappreciative children of a well-to-do family who squander money without compunction. They clearly demonstrate the characters of a happy-rich parent and carefree children of Ingals is the eldest son in the family and is more understanding than the other children. But in the crisis when the father had lost his job and there was no apparent source of income the deeper and more noble characters of the children were revealed. All were ready to sacrifice their most desired pleasures and hobbies in order to help their father.
Figuring in the plot were Grandma
Bradley and Noel Derby who made it possible for Father Ingals to open up a promising business. Leo Day

POULTRY MEETING

H. H. Kaufman, poultry specialist from State College will discuss the "Development of Poultry" along with other poultry practices, at a meeting on the farm of Fred Weisz, 2 miles east of Princeton, in Slippery Rock Township, Tuesday, May 9, at 1:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

All poultrymen are invited to attend the meeting.

GIVE EARLY PLANTS A GROWING CHANCE

Whether early cabbage and head lettuce are to produce good crops depends to a large extent on how they are transplanted.

First of all, healthy, stocky, disease-free plants with good root systems are necessary. These should be hardened off by gradually withholding water and lowering the temperature until they will withstand outdoor conditions. Do not allow the roots to dry out nor the tops to wilt before transplanting. As a rule plants should be set more deeply than in the plant bed. Celery is an exception.

A well-prepared soil will be improved by the proper use of fertilizer. A 4-12-4 fertilizer, for example, may be spread over the entire soil, at the rate of one pound to about 50 square feet, and worked deeply into the soil. This would be about 800 pounds per acre. Where less fertilizer is available a small amount may be applied in the row. To do this, first, "score" or mark out the row about four inches deep. Then apply the fertilizer at the rate of about three pounds per hundred feet. Mix this well with the soil by covering the trench. Transplant and water in the usual manner.

Superphosphate alone is less likely to injure the plants when placed near them and will be the most economical when liberal quantities of manure have been applied. In no case should the fertilizer be applied next to the plant.

FEW WHITE GRUBS WILL BE ACTIVE THIS YEAR

It is expected that there will not be any extensive damage from white grubs this year.

Preliminary observations indicate some grubs matured and will come out as beetles. A fair proportion of grubs did not mature and they are still in the ground at the plow line. These grubs are beginning to feed on grass roots and as the crops are placed they feed for a short time on the roots of corn.

Grubs which have not matured will be in the third year of the cycle which is passed, for the most part, in the ground with no feeding after the early part of May. Little damage is expected in the fall because most of the grubs will have pupated, when they do not feed.

There will be normal numbers of other grubs which annually cause some damage. With normal weather conditions and plenty of moisture, the plants should be able to overcome any damage caused by these grubs.

PROVIDE PASTURE FOR HUNGRY YOUNG PORKERS

Fifty-four per cent of the pigs farrowed in the United States are born in March, April, and May.

Chief among the reasons for the large number farrowed at this time are that the pigs will get a good start before corn planting time and they will be of the proper size to put on pasture where they will not require much attention during the busy summer season.

Too few Lawrence county farmers have a pasture rotation planned and established for their hogs. As a result, feeding costs are increased and more trouble is experienced with parasites and disease than where pasture is provided. Pasture provides a sanitary environment and supplies the food required to maintain the animal body. Any additional grain fed goes toward increase of body weight.

Experiments show that the maintenance requirement is approximately one pound of grain daily for 100 pounds of live weight. Since the average acre of pasture in this state will maintain 20 pigs for a season of 150 days, this means a saving of approximately 3000 pounds of grain for each acre pastured. Even at the present low cost of feed this represents a net income of about $30 an acre and indicates that hog pasture is one of the best playing field crops that can be produced in this state.

Red clover, alfalfa, sweet clover, and Dwarf Essex rape, in the order named, are the best pasture crops for Pennsylvania conditions. The first three, being leguminous and long-season crops, are to be preferred. Where these are not available, however, Dwarf Essex rape can be planted until one of the others is established in the rotation.

Dwarf Essex rape should be seeded about oats planting time at the rate of 5 to 8 pounds an acre. It will be ready for pasture purposes in about six weeks after seeding. The pigs should be turned in when the plants are about four inches high. In order to have a continuous supply throughout the summer and fall, a second planting should be sown some time during the first half of July for late pasture.

ENLIST FAMILY HELP IN HOME IMPROVEMENTS

Economic pressure forces the average homemaker to consider what can be done for home improvement with little or no expenditure of money. Miss Eleanor Drury, home economics extension representative, points out. Everyone wants the home as comfortable and attractive as possible.

Spring housecleaning days are here. Calling a family council to talk over plans for individual and cooperative tasks is the first step in getting the work done. Family cooperation is important in accomplishing the home improvement objective.

Outside appearance looms large in the improvement program. As the house is approached attention is attracted to orderliness and beautiful surroundings, including flowers, shrubs, and well kept lawns. Outdoor tools, children's playthings and waste all should have their place if the appearance is to be neat and appealing. Tin cans or other containers scattered about not only testify to untidiness, but they attract flies and catch water in which mosquitoes may breed, thus aiding these carriers of disease.

Windows and doors should be well screened against flies and mosquitoes, garbage and waste should be disposed of promptly, and small repairs made. Wherever possible the porch can be arranged with chairs and hammock so that leisure moments may be enjoyed in the open. Improvement in the outside appearance will promote the urge to carry on the work inside also, says Miss Drury.

New Castle High Defeats Canton 14 To 13

Locals Win Great Game From Ohioans At Taggart Field

Canton Extends New Castle To Limit To Take Victory In Rain

Komic, Lane, Halter And Frye Score Touchdowns In Thrilling Game

New Castle's fighting band of football warriors just barely nipped out a great Canton McKinley high football team at Taggart Field last night in a drizzle of rain. The score was 14 to 13. A crowd of perhaps 1,000 fans witnessed one of the best games to be played here in sometime. Captain Walter Komic drove over for one of the New Castle touchdowns, and Freddy Lane scooted 22 yards around end for the second touchdown, both coming in the first period. Alex Shellogg's educated toe won the game for New Castle. He made both of his placement kicks good. Halter and Frye scored the Canton touchdowns in the third and fourth periods. New Castle outplayed the Ohioans in the first half, only to have the tables reversed in the second half. Phil Bridenbaugh's boys met the severest test last night and came through with flying colors. Canton had a fine team, and were not disgraced by the defeat.

New Castle Scores.

Things looked bad for New Castle in the first period. Canton received and drove down the field for two first downs in a row. Canton carried the ball to the 32-yard line and when Halter fumbled New Castle recovered the ball on the 20-yard line. New Castle opened up with Anderson Lane and Komic clicking off the yards for two first downs in a row. New Castle was marching down the field in rapid strides. Anderson clicked off another first down after fumbling and the ball was on the Canton 44-yard line. Lane circled end for seven yards. Anderson was thrown for a loss of seven. Lane on a reverse play lost 10 yards being thrown by Green. Komic kicked to Halter, who fumbled, and Howley recovered for New Castle on the 15-yard line from where New Castle scored a minute or so later with Komic crashing through the center of the line. Alex Shellogg booted the ball right smack between the uprights for an extra point.

New Castle's second touchdown resulted from a distinct "break of the game". Alex Shellogg kicked off for New Castle. Frye made a nice catch of the ball advanced several yards, was hit hard by a New Castle tackler and the ball flew out of his hands and was caught by Raskowski on the Canton 22-yard line. Daniels replaced Frye for Canton at halfback. Lane on the first play broke away and eluded all of (drawing 25 yards and Canton 20 yards. In the matter of forward passing Canton again outshone New Castle making good four out of seven tries, and New Castle tried two, but didn't complete either of them.

Canton must be given credit for their second half stand. Halter and Captain Frye were two of the finest halfbacks that ever played on Taggart Field. The Canton line was very good. Just a shade under the big powerful New Castle front wall. Lane and Anderson did the best work for New Castle running the ends, and the old reliable Komic played his customary fine game at fullback. The work of Howley at center for New Castle stood out quite nicely.

New Castle Fine Team

New Castle played the ball with a fine team. The two spring games served as a means of getting acquainted with the game. Coach Bridenbaugh knows what his team can do now. There is a lot of smooching out to be done. Nickum's presence will make New Castle impressive.

The New Castle team was fortunate in getting that victory last night. The officiating was very good.

The lineup—

New Castle 14. Canton 13.

F. Shellogg, L.E. Huff; Palkovitch, L.T. Wyant; Raskowski, L.G. Maciag; Howley, C. Shopwell; Humphrey, R.G. Allen; A. Shellogg, R.T. Haas; Perrett, Q.B. Green; Ridley, Q.B. Jurkovich; Anderson, L.H. Frye; Lane, R.H. Halter; Komic, F.B. Abdulla.

Score by periods—

New Castle 14. 0 0 0-14. Canton 13. 0 0 6-13.

Touchdowns—New Castle: Lane, Komic. Canton: Halter, Frye.

Points after touchdown—Alex Shellogg 2 by placement. Canton: Frye missed one by placement. One on pass Halter to Huff.

Subs—New Castle: Tuscano for Perrett, Sorto for Humphrey, Kneram for Ridley, Canton: Arnal for Green, Bartell for Allen, Frigley for Abdulla, Daniels for Frye, Frye for Daniels, Abdulla for Frigley, Gygol for Maciag.

Heroes-Goats In Big League

(International News Service)

The heroes—Huck Betts, Braves, and Ray Kops, Reds. Betts won a 2 to 1 duel from Charley Root of the Cubs and started winning rally in 11th inning. Kops stopped a rally by the Giants with fine relief pitching and then drove in what proved to be the winning run.

The goat—Travis Jackson, Giants. His wild throw staked Cincinnati to two runs.

Derby Draws Big Field Of Horses

Twenty-Two Horses Will Go To Barrier In Today's Classic In Kentucky

Ladysman Is Still Favored To Win, Head Play Sold, Track Will Be Muddy

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—Once upon a time, there was a staid, old southern town that turned itself overnight into an immense percolator with a great, flaring snout that steamed and frothed and muttered strangely, while down within its bosom the troubled grains of coffee fought for air.

These were the 60,000 visitors, at the outset self-important and aggressive, as is the way of all coffee in the morning; then, hours later, tired as dregs are tired when the pot grows cold. But this is not a bed time story.

Great Derby

It is an attempt to tell the story of the great Kentucky Derby, which will be raced at the mile and a quarter distance late this afternoon at Churchill Downs.

It is the story, too, of nine state governors and a member of the president's cabinet; of the nameless thousands who make this an annual pilgrimage from the world and its four corners; of nobody and everybody and a stretch of turf that has become historic and almost hallowed through fifty nine years of derby racing.

In all, a vivid, glowing story that persisted only to prove that romance still lives. So does the enthusiasm. It rained yesterday it rained last night. Yet the crowds continued to pour into town and were on their way to the track long before noon this morning. So much for crowds. There is even more people, though less money, this time. At that it seems to me I never heard of a shortage of people.

Twenty-Two Horses

Speaking for racing interest, twenty two horses, the greatest three-year-olds within the gift of American racing, were nominated yesterday morning. This equalled the record established in Reigh County's year. At least sixteen of them will start, maybe more, it being claimed that a glucose track will be needed to keep some of them in.

This does not include Ladysman, the first winter book favorite to reach the post in four years, nor Head Play, the featured contention. Head Play changed ownership over night from Mrs. Willie Crump to Mrs. Silas Mason, wife of the sub-royal builder, for $30,000 and 15 per cent of his winnings, if any. Nevertheless, the horse is expected to go to the post as second choice and probably won't pay better than 3-1. Ladysman will be even less.

"Field" Horses

That will interest race followers. What will interest them more keenly at this time is that eight of the twenty two horses will be placed "in the field." Meaning that, if you play one, you play all and the price is correspondingly short.

The eight "field" horses will be Warren, Jr., Dark Winter, Captain Red, Strideaway, Spicson, Silent Shot, At Top, The Filly, and Fair Rochester. For every scratch, however, the "field" is likewise reduced by one horse, yet something like five "field" horses probably will go to the post, an unusual number.

This, by the same token, calls considerable attention to Inlander, which with the "field" and the stable entries of Bradley, Coe and the Catawba stable, occupies practically an isolated position in the odds. The horse was quoted as high as 100 to 1 around town last night, and in the mud or out, they say he's quite a bet. He must be that price.

Favor Ladysman

But, somehow, Ladysman, the two-year-old champion, continues to hold the eye and catch the attention. They say his legs are bad. They say he can't run in the mud. They even admit the possibility that the Downs this afternoon can't be entirely dry. Yet they are betting Ladysman as though his ticket was a treasury certificate.

To do this not only is to overlook Head Play but the surprise E. R. Bradley move with Fingal and Bollemaker; also Sarada. A good horse; Charley O., another, and Mr. Khayyam, son of a derby winner which broke a track record in Maryland last Saturday.

Mr. Khayyam, which doesn't like trouble at the post, is well placed far on the outside, where he may break quickly and "pinch off" the field. As for Bollemaker, it was Bradley's estimate that he was the best two-year-old he ever owned; also Laverne Fator's that he was the best two-year-old he ever rode. But the trouble with that is that he's a three-year-old now. Anyhow, all agree on one point: that it is the most open derby of recent years. Ladysman or no Ladysman. It is even so open that none of the scheduled jockeys has ever rode a derby winner.

So it's a fair race, a fast pace and woe betide the hindmost!

Between Innings

EAST SIDE GIANTS

East Side Giants mushball team handed the Allen street team a 20 to 5 defeat at the East Side field Thursday evening. Billy Rowland featured with the only home run of the battle.

BARTBERGER SLUGGERS

Bartberger Sluggers won from the Shadyside team 5 to 4 at the Shady Side field. The stars for the Bartbergers were J. Zena and Tony Sarto. For the Shadyside team the playing of Peachy was the best. For games with the Bartbergers call 4151-R and ask for Dick.

TO PLAY TODAY

Gaston Juniors will play the Colonial A. C. this afternoon if the grounds are not rain soaked. The game originally was scheduled for Tuesday. Great and Kirkwood will be the Gaston battery.

SLUGGERS WIN

Court House Sluggers won a game of baseball from the Boston A. C. Friday afternoon 8 to 6. The game was played at Boston Field. The stars of the game were Dunlap, Dinsmore, Thompson, and Joe Johnson. Black, Snyder and Kennedy also played good baseball. It was the second victory of the year for the Sluggers.

Three Horses Are Scratched

Derby Field Is Reduced To Nineteen Through Withdrawing Of Three Horses

(International News Service)

CHURCHILL DOWNS, LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—Scratching of three horses early today—Fingal, Bollemaker and Warren, Jr.—reduced the Kentucky derby field to 19.

The Bradley entry for the first time in years became a one-horse bet when the master of the idle hour withdrew Fingal and Bollemaker. Warren, Jr., was scratched by Calumet Farm because of prospects of a muddy track.

Shenango To Play Bessemer

Shenango Hopes To Avenge For Recent 5 To 4 Defeat

Shenango high school hopes to avenge Monday at Shenango for a five to four defeat scored by Bessemer at Bessemer recently. The game was their third at Bessemer and twice beaten George Washington. Recently Bessemer won from Wampum. With the Shenango-Bessemer score tied four to four in the first half of the last inning Slavish doubled and Marshall raced home with the winning run. Only four hits were made off Ordick and Fruiit of Shenango and eight were made off Pepe and Percie of Bessemer.

Sportsmen To Meet Monday

Lawrence County Sportsmen To See "Movies" At Elks

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association will meet at 8:30 p. m. D. S. T. Monday at the Elks Club, according to Andrew Dodds, president. J. Audley Boak, head of the Pennsylvania Grange will be the principal spokesman. In addition there will be motion pictures.

Bocce League To Be Formed Here

Malizia won two of three games of Bocce from Maciarello, the first 25-11 and the third, 25-24. The second match was won by Maciarello 25-16. Melitto, Angoline and Coci played best for the losers and Cook and Valentine played a good game for the winners. A Bocce league is to be formed soon for games on Maciarello field.

Pepper Martin Has Big Day At Bat, Four Hits

Martin Joins League's Best Hitters By Work In Philadelphia

PIRATES KEEP ON WINNING GAMES

By LES CONKLIN

International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Pepper Martin, firebrand of the St. Louis Cardinals and hero of the 1931 world series, is on the warpath again. By clouting a homer, triple, double and single against the Phillies yesterday he crowded his way into the list of five leading National league hitters with a percentage of .346, which makes him the club's best batter to date.

Martin, in his brief but spectacular career as a big leaguer, has run the gamut of mediocrity to fame, and then back again to obscurity. He batted .300 during the regular 1931 season helping the Cards win the pennant, and then ruined the Athletics in the world series, hitting .500 and running wild on the bases.

Martin Hitting.

Expected to be one of the brightest stars of 1932, Pepper fell to pieces, his batting dropping to .238. He spent the first week of the present season on the bench and the future looked rather drab. Then Gabby Street decided to transform him from an outfielder into a third baseman, and the experiment has worked like a charm.

St. Louis is the only western club unbeaten in the east this year. With Bill Walker pitching and Martin hitting, they scored the third straight win of their eastern tour by beating the Phillies yesterday, 5 to 3. With Walker and Jim Mooney, both ex-cubans, chalking up victories on successive days, and a flock of other fine hurlers on the roster, St. Louis appears to be the only club capable of stopping Pittsburgh.

Pirates Win.

Bill Swift turned in his fourth win of the year as the Pirates trimmed Brooklyn, 4 to 2, and showed the Dodgers into sixth place. Van Mungo, fire ball hurler making his first start of the year, was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning, and Chick Outen, his battery mate, had to retire when spiked by Lindstrom. Tony Cuccinello of the Dodgers poked a triple after going 23 times without a hit. The Pirates now have a lead of 2½ games over the Giants, who lost to Cincinnati 8 to 5. Ray Kops, veteran relief pitcher, stopped New York after Frey was knocked out, and later drove in the winning run. Ott and Grantham hit homers.

Braves Ahead.

Huck Betts of the Braves, who once peppered his own epidemics with buckshot meant for a rabbit, had better control in taking a 2 to 1 duel from Charley Root of the Cubs. Betts helped win his own game when he singled in the 11th and was ferried around on hits by Urbanski and Jordan.

Rain and cold kept all American league teams idle.

Band Plays In Rain At Game

It takes more than rain to stop the New Castle high band from attending football games and pepping the gridders and fans up with lively music. Friday night was hardly the kind of an evening that you would expect a band to put in an appearance.

The band played many snappy tunes and paraded the field between halves despite the fact that many wet feet no doubt resulted unless the boys wore overshoes. Joe Replogle was in charge of the band.

The 1,000 or so hardy football fans who braved the chilling wind and rainy atmosphere to watch their favorites in action thoroughly enjoyed the efforts of the band boys.

Fair And Warm At Louisville For Derby Race

Rain Subsides And Day Will Be Fine For Racing, Track Will Be Muddy

(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—The weatherman this morning promised fair and warm weather with a heavy track and strong west winds for the 59th Kentucky derby at Churchill Downs this afternoon. It was still raining at 3:30 a. m., but at 7 a. m. it was only partly cloudy and the shower had subsided. Rain most of yesterday left the track in a fairly heavy condition. The temperature reading at 7 a. m. was 56 degrees.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Peter De Grasse outpointed Jimmy Thomas in 10 rounds and Johnny Hines took a 10 round decision from Jimmy Mack in the main battles last night at Pittsburgh. Sammy Paris took a lacing from Charley Burns in one six rounder and Johnny Chiodo beat Clare Repole in another. Paris and Chiodo have boxed here.

America's drive towards the challenge round of the Davis cup tennis championship started good at Mexico City, the United States winning both singles matches. Captain Wilmer Allison beat Ricardo Tapia the Mexican captain 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 and Cliff Sutter won from Esteban Reyes, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

Fred Brickell, outfielder of the Phillies who had a row with Manager Burt Shotton, has been released on option to the Kansas City Club of the American association. Brickell objected to the manager assigning Al Todd, a second string catcher to fill in at left field for the injured Hal Lee. Brickell declared he was tired of sitting on the bench and asked for his release.

Harry Hunt of Baltimore was injured at the Liverpool fence, Pimlico when the horse he was schooling over the jumps fell. An X-ray disclosed a slight concussion and fractured vertebrae.

Maxwell, first baseman for Colonial A. C., poked a pair of doubles when he hit against Lemley of Central A. C.

Sheen caught a good game for Central against Colonial. He handled Lemley to perfection and held down bases from being stolen.

Blews had Mahoning Reserves eating out of his hurler's glove when Highland won 13 to 2. He allowed only two hits.

Johnny Banko of West Pittsburg is quite an athlete. He has boxed as a pro, played football and is now pitching baseball.

Brailey, shortstop of the Monarchs, looks like a good hitter. In fact he made three safe blows against Cascade A. C. when Monarchs won 9 to 4.

W. Soho of the Polish National alliance not only pitched a good game but he came through with a home run and two doubles against Bessemer.

Councilman Stanley Treser is doing his part in helping baseball. He is helping to condition fields. He did the same thing last spring.

Reports of Saturday baseball games should be placed in The News office Saturday night. Managers do this to ensure publication.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Scouts Receive Their Badges At
Solemn CeremonyInvestiture Service For Girl
Scouts Conducted By Miss
Elizabeth Reis

Twenty-four girls of the Mahoningtown Girl Scout troop received their badges Friday afternoon in an impressive investiture ceremony conducted by Miss Elizabeth Reis of the New Castle Girl Scout council, with Mrs. W. H. Hanger, also of the council assisting.

Miss Reis stated that this was the first time she had ever seen such a large percentage of a troop invested at the same time. All but four or five of the girls who had entered the organization late were eligible to receive their pins.

The service centered around a large flag on the wall of one of the Mahoningtown school portables. Patrol leaders presented the individual members of their patrols to Miss Reis. Investiture rites were performed and the pins presented.

Mrs. Hanger led the girls in a number of games and told them about camp. A relay knot tying contest proved very interesting. It was won by patrol No. 4.

Mahoningtown Girl Scout troop was organized just a short time ago. Mrs. E. W. Guy is leader and Miss Lucille McGuire lieutenant.

CALIFORNIA GUESTS
END VISIT IN WARD

Mr. and Mrs. John Beard of Sebastopol, Calif., left on Friday for Mrs. Beard's former home in Columbus, O., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Beard of 127 Orchard street.

The California couple have been making a tour of the east. They have been gone from Sebastopol since March 27.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh received members of the Women's Missionary society at her home on Sixth street Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It proved to be a pleasant occasion enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. John Bevan was the leader. Mrs. M. E. Vaughn was a special guest. Mrs. Vaughn gave a splendid message to the group. A short business meeting with the president, Mrs. W. W. Wait, in charge, was conducted.

Mrs. Bumbaugh served a delicious lunch.

In June the society will meet with Mrs. C. H. Clark, Sunnyside.

Audience

A concert was presented last night by the Mahoningtown Presbyterian orchestra in the basement of the church.

The presentation was not only fully as good but better than the patrons had expected. The orchestra is always a drawing card and the people of seventh ward who had heard it before were only too eager to hear the concert.

In addition to the orchestral numbers there was a vocal duet by two little girls Betty Alexander and Jane Bollinger, and a saxophone trio made up of Blaine Farver and two of his friends.

Refreshments were served to the orchestra members after the program.

Observations
In 7th Ward

A West Madison avenue man saw something Thursday night that still has him puzzled. He saw a little boy, not more than ten years of age, walking along the tops of a string of box cars of a speeding B. & O. train on the westbound tracks. The boy was following a man who was quite a distance ahead of him. One thing was certain, the boy's mother didn't know where he was!

Those air-filled paper sacks in the garden of the fire department here are for the purpose of keeping nibble crowds and blackbirds away. They seemed to be successful as "scarecrows" last summer.

Around New Castle

When ordinarily well balanced citizens will set out on a wooden bench for two hours; with the rain playing a tattoo down the back of their necks (just one to customer, one neck that is) daring epizootic housemaid's knee, and the other sundry ills, watching twenty two young athletes attempt to demolish each other strictly according to the rules, then the football virus runs deep.

It was no night for outdoor sports last night. No night to sit and watch any kind of a game, but the faithful were at Taggart Stadium, braving the worst the weather man had. And they saw a football game. Not a spring practice game, but one that looked like November football with two first teams out there having at each other.

New Castle won, but Lady Luck was rooting from the New Castle section all night. This McKinley team was fast and smart and fortunately the local boys snagged the two touchdowns and kicks in the first two periods before the visitors got used to the field or the ball or the lights or something.

Dan Boone was over for the game and some of the old time football stars of New Castle high did some fanning with him. Dan was the coach here back in 1915 or thereabouts and turned out some good teams. A number of old time college stars were started on their way to pigskin glory by Boone, two of them that came to mind being Seventy Yard Bill Horner who played for Pitt and Norman Nelson who played for Allegheny.

The Adams Street district residents are satisfied with a Santa Claus after all. The raising of the street car tracks at Adams and East Washington street has made the lake there disappear which calls for a loud cheer or something.

It seems the rooters for the Wild Azalea for the star flower have just a close decision to the friends of the Mountain Laurel. The Mountain Laurel is now the official state flower and the residents of Monroe County and those other counties where the bloom is profuse can rest on their laurels.

They might have made the rhododendron the state flower, but then so few people would have been able to spell it. The dogwood would have been easily spelled but never got a bark.

PLAINGROVE

HOLD BANQUET

The Junior High School banquet was held in the High School auditorium on Tuesday evening. The tables were decorated in the colors of the two classes. Yellow and white were the seniors and red and gold were the juniors. Red and yellow roses were also used in the table decorations. An archway was decorated for the students to pass under. The tables were set in a triangular position. A delicious dinner was served by the mothers of the Juniors with the Juniors serving the banquet. Miss Elsie Oremba a Junior was toastmistress. The Senior response was given by John McNulty.

The program included: Clarinet solo, Walters Rodgers; musical reading, Leora Houston; address, Mr. Smith; vocal duet, Leora McCommon and Edith Rodgers; reading, Marian Grundy; harmonica solo, Walter Minor; Jews harp, Frank Guarnieri; German band.

The Seniors present were: Isabelle Miles, Roberta Armstrong, Florence Jenkins, Mary Grundy, Elinor Rodgers, Jane Oremba, Eva Hamilton, Pauline Dolby, Calvin Winder, John McNulty, Robert Oaks, Clyde Grundy, while the Juniors present were Kathryn Crow, Grace Raiston, Lenora Houston, Leora McCommon, Edith Rodgers, Marian Grundy, Elsie Oremba, Walter Minor, Rav Shell, Howard Cunningham, Frank Guarnieri and James Pollock.

GIVE CONCERT

The concert of the Plaingrove High school was presented on Friday evening with the following program: Overture, grand opera selection—Trumpet solo, Harold Offutt; clarinet solo, Walter Rodgers; baritone solo, Alrick Miles; vocal duet, Ballad of June Roses, Irene Wallace and Leora McCommon; dialogue, "Yo Stay Way From My Gal" Howard Cunningham and James Pollock; violin solo, Elmer Rodgers; trumpet solo, John McNulty and Howard Offutt; Minuet in G, March Militaire.

SCHOOL BOARD ACTION

At the School Board meeting the budget for next year was considerably reduced and as a result the tax millage was fixed at seven mills for the general fund, and five mills for the sinking fund, a reduction of 8 mills from last year's rate. The new tax of 12 mills comes as a satisfaction to the taxpayers. Per capita tax was set at $5.00.

The election of teachers was then taken up and resulted as follows: Principals: Walt Whitman; May McKelvey, Edwin Anderson, Alice Ligo, William Hamilton, Elizabeth Rose, Mrs. Cornelia Willard, Mrs. Ella McCaslin, Mary Clarke, Mrs. Hazel Wilson, and Marjorie Gilfilland.

The subject of health education was dropped. The interests of economy and the Science work will be divided between those competent to teach.
